FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM J. BRYAN,
OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ARTHUR SEWALL
OF MAINE.

THE DEMOCRATIC FEUD.

There are two factions of Democrats in Nevada between whom there seems to be an irrepressible conflict. Each claims to be the rightful heir to the party which existed in 1890, when Theodore Winters received very nearly half the votes of the State. One of these factions held a mass convention last June and nominated Presidential electors and selected delegates to the Chicago convention. The other faction has issued a call for a State convention to be held at Carson September 8th. The faction which held its convention last June was not recognized at the National Convention at Chicago, while the delegates of the faction which proposes to hold its convention in September were admitted to seats in the National Convention. Now the faction whose delegates were denied seats in the National Convention claims to be the legitimate, rightful heir of the old Democratic party and that its Central Committee alone has authority to call a State Convention and nominate a State ticket. So much in reference to the conditions of both factions; now as to the facts.

In 1893 a Democratic State Convention, the last in which the Democracy of all parts of the State were represented, was held at Winnemucca. That convention appointed a State Central Committee of thirty-eight members, of which H. Harris, now Melter and Refiner in the mint, was elected Chairman. Subsequently the committee met in Carson City, when a proposition was made to nominate Presidential Electors. The proposition was defeated, only nine of the committee favoring it. These nine withdrew from the meeting and nominated electors, who received 715 votes in the State, and have since claimed to be the regular committee and to have the exclusive authority to act for the party in Nevada. Now this faction, though its representatives were not recognized by the National Convention, claims to be the regular Democratic party of Nevada and assert that its ticket is the only one that can be placed on the official ballot, basing the claim on the fact that the other faction had no ticket in the field at the election in 1894, the Secretary of State, who was then a Republican, refusing to place the ticket on the official ballot. As the title of both to the Democratic inheritance is somewhat cloudy, one having been recognized by the Secretary of State, a Republican, and the other by the National Democratic Convention, and neither having over 7 per cent of the vote of the State, the sensible course for both committees to pursue is to unite in a call for a State Convention. That done, if either has authority the nominees of such convention would be entitled to a place on the official ballot. If the leaders of one of the factions are solicitous about the validity of the electoral ticket, as is alleged by Mr. J. R. Ryan in a card published in the Virginia Chronicle, a convention called by the committees of both factions would relieve their minds on that subject and prove their sincerity. The people of this State are for Bryan for President and they will take no chances of endangering his election to further the personal ends of either faction of the Democratic party. The Silver party will nominate a ticket at Elko, the legality of which cannot be questioned, and unless the Democrats unite and agree upon that ticket with the Silver party, the true silver men of this State will run no risk of losing an electoral vote for Bryan by voting for the electors of either faction of the Democratic party.

BRYAN WELCOMED EVERYWHERE.

William J. Bryan, the nominee of the Silver men of all parties for President, is now in the heart of the enemy's country. He captured New York, despite the efforts of the gold gamblers of all parties and the cheers of the masses who welcomed him resounded through the citadel of goldbugdom. In his travels through the interior of New York he is welcomed by the people as warmly as he was in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The masses by their plaudits repudiated the assertions of the gold men that he is a sectional candidate. Bryan is as enthusiastically received on the Hudson as on the Mississippi and Ohio, and the people cheer as lustily for the champion of free coinage in the Empire State as they do in Nebraska. As he said in one of his talks from the platform of a railroad car, "this is a time when thinking people out number the corporations and when the people vote according to their own judgment; we are naturally an independent people and this is a time when this independence will be asserted."

There is no section of the country in which Bryan is not welcomed. The people look to see him and to cheer him in the east as well as in the west. There is nothing sectional in the man or in the principles which he advocates. He is a broadminded statesman with comprehensive ideas and he is for an American financial policy which the masses of the people from the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, endorse without waiting for the consent of any other nation on the face of the earth.

STEWART SCORES THURSTON.

His Explanation of His Charge Against Bryan a Lame and Cowardly Defense.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—Senator Stewart of Nevada to-night made public an open letter to Senator Thurston, bearing on the Nebraska Senator's statement that Bryan had been paid to lecture by the silver mine owners. Stewart says: Your disclaimer in connection with the foregoing statement requires an explanation, provided you consider your reputation for truth and veracity valuable, but your disclaimer that you would be the last man to assail the character of Mr. Bryan reflects either upon your veracity or your knowledge of the law of libel. If you are a lawyer, and the fact that you have been retained by the Union Pacific railroad for so many years indicates that you are useful in some way to that institution, you ought to know that repeating slander or libel is equally as slanderous or libelous as the original matter. You assume that you are not assailing Mr. Bryan when you are quoting what irresponsible newspapers say of him and giving to such statements all the credit your high official position can confer. You belittle your understanding when you say that it is the duty of Mr. Bryan to enter into personal controversy with every hirling newspaper scribbler who is employed to slander or defame him. The people understand the animus of partisan newspapers and make proper allowance for their assertions, but when you clothe their slander with your official robes it is a lame and cowardly defense on your part to protect yourself by skulking behind miserable newspaper scribbles. I called your attention to the injustice of your charge, not to the charge of newspapers, which I have again quoted for the purpose of calling your attention to the charge that you made, supposing that you, as an honorable man would retract the charges if you were unable to prove them. Instead of doing so, you repeated other stale slanders against Mr. Bryan and myself Senator Sharon, Governor Stanford and others which, if true, do not prove your charge against Mr. Bryan. I shall not reiterate in kind and quote what venal newspapers or even better men than yourself say of you because it is not pertinent to the issue. The issue is whether you have unjustly and without proof assailed the character of Mr. Bryan. You cannot avoid that issue by pretending that you only repeated a falsehood which somebody else originated. If you have any friends who supposed you were both honest and brave they will be sorely disappointed if you fail to frankly avow your error and retract your slander or prove the truth of your charges.

SEWALL AND WATSON.

Chairman Butler Discusses the Candidates.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—Senator Butler, Chairman of the National Committee of the Populist party, arrived to-day to attend a meeting of the Populist managers. Only five members of the Executive Committee are here. The others have sent excuses. It was decided even before the Executive Committee met that the national headquarters will be in Washington. It is probable that rooms in Wormly's, adjoining the Democratic headquarters, will be secured. The Executive Committee will listen to no proposition looking to the withdrawal of Watson from the ticket. Butler said that if Sewall had stood for what Bryan does before the people, neither the holding of the Populist party organization together nor anything else would have prevented the nomination of the whole Democratic ticket by the Populists. Sewall does not represent the Populists, he said, and under no circumstances will they consent to vote for him. He thinks that Watson stands a better chance of being the next Vice President than Sewall.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The price of silver certificates in New York declined to 66 cents yesterday.

Bryan is overwhelmed with invitations to speak in various cities of the East.

The boiler at Taff's sawmill at Troy, N. C., exploded, killing five men and injuring four others, three of whom may die.

Stewart L. Woodford of New York lunched with McKinley yesterday and told him he would carry New York by 100,000 plurality.

The British bark Flora Stafford burned at sea. The crew of twenty-one persons took to the boats and it is believed were lost at sea.

Three Indians supposed to be Yaquis have been captured by United States troops in Arizona and taken before a United States Commission upon a charge of violating the neutrality laws. Eugene V. Debs has written to G. P. Harrison of Nebraska his views on fusion and silver. He says Bryan is better than the Democratic party, and he does not believe in letting the latter swallow the People's party.

Eugene Burt, who murdered his wife and two children at Austin, Texas, a month ago, has been captured at Chicago. The dirk with which he committed the bloody deed was found in his possession with the blood stains yet on the blade.

The Democrats of South Dakota have decided to endorse the State Populist ticket, which is for Bryan and Sewall. The fusionists are confident of carrying the State, as Senators Pettigrew and Kyle support the ticket.

The Canadian Government seized the American schooner Frederick Gering for fishing within the three-mile limit off the coast of Nova Scotia, and the Chief Justice of the Admiralty Court sustained the seizure and declared the vessel forfeited to the Canadian Government.

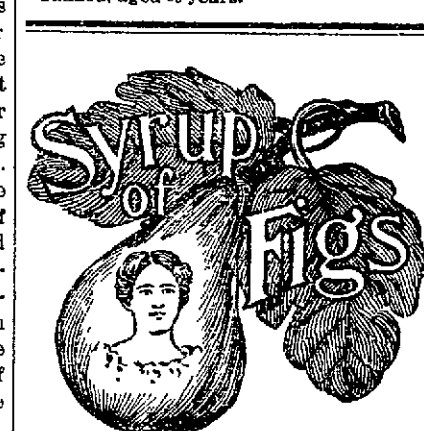

The executive committee of the McKinley Democracy has issued an address to the gold men, in which they say the Chicago convention impeached the honesty and patriotism of President Cleveland and adopted a platform which is dangerous to the welfare and life of the Government.

Senator Butler of North Carolina is in Washington to attend the meeting of the National Committee of the People's party of which he is chairman. Only five members are present, the rest having sent excuses. The committee will not listen to a proposition to withdraw Watson from the ticket.

The stage from Dieter to Redding, California, was held up near Morley yesterday by a highwayman who demanded the express box. The driver told him there was none on that route. He then demanded the mail and the driver gave him the way pouch and drove on keeping the through pouch in the coach.

DIED.

FINLAYSON.—In San Francisco, August 18, 1896, Miss Flora Finlayson, a native of Canada, aged 30 years.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. Thus is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Notice to Free Coinage Men.

THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF the Silver Party, having called a State Convention to be held at Elko, September 8, 1896, and apportioned delegates to the several counties, in which apportionment Washoe county is entitled to ten delegates, and the duty of providing for the selection of such delegates having been left with the Washoe members of the Committee, an invitation is hereby extended to the people of Washoe county who favor the election of W. J. Bryan and endorse the principles he represents, to meet with the Committee at the Court-house in Reno at 2 P. M.

Saturday, August 22, 1896.

For the purpose of selecting such delegates. The delegates to be apportioned as follows: Verdi, 1; Franktown, Washoe and Hufnaker's, 1; Glendale, 1; Wadsworth, 2; Reno, 5.

By order of the Washoe members of the State Central Committee. a124

LOVE IN THE CIRCUS.

TWO ROMANCES WHICH TERMINATED ON THE TRAPEZE.

How Sam Myers Proposed and Was Accepted by His Annie—The Tragedy Which Grew Out of the Love of the Howland Brothers For Jennie Dunbar.
"Ah!"
"Oh!"
All the spectators of the giant leap for life in the circus tent held their breaths with terror while the little acrobat plunged forward, released his hold and shot through space, to be securely caught in the firm grasp of his partner, who hung from his toes from another treacherous trapeze.
Twelve thousand nine hundred and ninety-eight persons caught their breaths again as the feat was accomplished.
The two remaining persons of the 13, —000—a big circus tent always holds 13, 000 persons, you know—watched the proceedings with an air of perfect nonchalance, as if a swing for life was no more serious matter than signaling an electric car.
Well might they be calm, for they were veteran circus performers, and the perils of the toasts were old stories to them, and then, as the show went on, they began exchanging reminiscences, while the listening Journal man forgot all about what was before him in his interest in these yarns.
"That jump reminds me of the way Sam Myers proposed to Annie Johnson ten years ago."
The Journal man noticed that the veteran circus man omitted the "Signer" and "Ma'am" from his conversation, so that Sam Myers and Annie Johnson did not bear in private life the names which adorned the circus programme and the particular lithographs which inflame the circus going propensities of Young America.
"You see, Sam Myers and Pote Wilson and Annie Johnson were alibins that season and did a great act on the flying trapeze, in which Annie made over so many jumps across the tent and was caught by Sam, while Pote was performing on a third bar way up above them. One jump after another was made all right by her, and suddenly everybody was surprised to see Sam lift Annie in the air as he caught her and kiss her before she turned to make the leap back to her own trapeze. Everybody wondered what it all meant, and after the act was over they soon found out."
"It seems that Sam and Pote had been in a quarrel, and just before the act the act was confided to him and Pote. Sam made up his mind that he would not be left in a case like this, but he had no chance to speak for himself until they began."
"When Annie made her leap, Sam started to stop the question, and a proposal continued with interruptions as the young lady would swing back and forth and jump to and fro in the regular fashion of her performance.
Finally the question was asked just as she swung. Sam, hanging by his toes, waited until she made the next leap and as he heard her say 'Yes' he lifted her up and kissed her with such a smack that it could be heard all over the big tent."
"Everybody congratulated the pair but Pote. Somehow he had the impression that he had not been treated squarely in this proposal, and the firm breakup began."
"That reminds me of another time which was with a circus that I was performing in a dozen years ago. The Howland brothers were doing a double trapeze act, with all sorts of daring jumps, such the same act as the one we just saw. In the same circus the leading rider was Jennie Dunbar, who was the cleverest little woman who ever jumped through a hoop, and both the boys fell in love with her."
"She was really fond of both of them, but when they proposed she accepted Will and told Fred that she could only be a sister to him. When Fred proposed, we were performing up in Canada, and the proposal was made just before the afternoon performance. When the boys came up for their turn, we all noticed that Fred was pale and nervous, while Will was just the reverse. Their act went on just the same as usual, and finally came their last jump, which was the most daring of all. Fred hung by his toes, and Will made the swing clear across the tent. We never knew how it happened, whether Fred was so nervous that he lost his grip or whether he did it deliberately, but just as Will came flying through the air Fred tumbled and dropped from his hold down into the net, while Will shot through the air and fell in the ring clear beyond the edge of the net. When they ran to him, he was dead. Jennie was almost crazy with grief, and Fred had an attack of brain fever, from which he did not recover for months."
"No one could tell whether he deliberately dropped to get rid of his rival or whether he was so sick that he could not hold himself longer. At any rate, as soon as he got well he proposed to Jennie again and was accepted. They are married now and retired from the business."—Boston Journal.

Some of Them Delivered to Every Small Number of Auditors.

It is a curious fact that many of the great speeches which gave immortality to the orators who made them were delivered in comparatively small rooms and to small audiences. When Webster made his great argument in the Dartmouth college case, aside from the bar and the officials in charge of the room, there were not 50 persons present, and yet many believe that he spoke to listening senators and other high officials.
When we read of Patrick Henry's wonderful display of eloquence, we see in our mind's eye a spacious room and an immense crowd of people listening to his burning words with almost breathless attention. But, in truth, many of these speeches which quickened the march of events were delivered in a small room and to a few hearers—never more than 100. "Could it have been here, in this creaking chapel of 50 pews," wrote Homer, the gifted author of "Sprounder," "that Patrick Henry delivered the greatest and best known of all his speeches? Was it here that he uttered those words of doom so unexpected, and then so unwelcome, "We must fight? Even here. But the words were spoken in a tone and manner worthy the men to whom they were addressed, and who were so impressed with them that for several moments they were almost awestricken. It was only when the voice of Richard Henry Lee, that other matchless Virginia orator, who rose to second the words of Henry, rang through the room that they were called back to themselves." Seward's speech in defense of William Freeman was undoubtedly the greatest and most brilliant effort of his professional life. It did for him more, perhaps, than the conduct of any case has given any other in the state of New York in perpetuating his name. And yet the audience that listened to him was less than 100 in number. A friend expressed some surprise that an argument of so much power, learning and eloquence should have attracted so few listeners. "My dear sir," said Seward, "my audience was in no sense limited.
The civilized world was my audience.
Posterity will hear it, and generations unborn will praise or censure it from the different standpoints in which they will view it. I did not make it for a part of the maddening crowd's ignobleness." Horace Greeley said, "Seward's speech in defense of William Freeman is one of the masterpieces in the history of oratory, reason, logic and humanity."
—American Lawyer.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THIS FIFTH day of August, A. D. 1896, that an election will be held in the school-house of Verdi, School District No. 7, on Thursday, August 27th A. D. 1896, From 2 until 6 o'clock P. M. of that day, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said Verdi School District, V. T. the question whether a special tax shall be levied upon the taxable property in said Verdi School District, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein existing between the plaintiff and defendant on the grounds of desertion, commencing on or about the month of June, 1894, and continuing up to the date of filing the complaint herein, said desertion being wilful, without cause, without notice, and without the consent of plaintiff herein, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.
And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.
In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 5th day of July, A. D. 1896, Carson City, Nev., July 8, 1896.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT IN compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 8, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1894, Elie Lachapelle, of Verdi, County of Washoe, Nevada, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement, No. 680, for the purchase of the NW 1/4 of Section No. 34, in Township No. 21 North, Range No. 17 E., M.
D. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is actually used, or to be used, or to be used for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Car-sonville, California, on Thursday, the 30th day of July, 1896.
He names as witnesses: Anthony Garcia, Peter Tustin, John Tustin, all of Verdi, Nevada, and George Nelson of Reno,
